

Communication statement

We, MV24® GmbH & Co. KG, consult our clients on all topics regarding care and insurance provision. We are at your service at any time in person or through our MV24® application. To offer you a full consultation of the highest standards and in order for you to have access to all the features of the MV24® application, your consent is necessary for our communication with you through the channels of communication listed below for the specified purposes.

By submitting your registration, you agree that we can inform you of all of the financial products we offer, such as proposals for the conclusion of new financial services contracts suitable for your needs. In addition, you agree that we can contact you regarding changes to the contents of your existing financial services contracts, in particular concerning their extension, the broadening of their scope and / or their supplementation. Contact with regards to insurance products will be made only by MV24® GmbH & Co. KG.

The respective contact with you for the purposes stated above will be made by email or through the MV24® application, but also by phone.

It is your right to withdraw your consent at any time, for which no particular template is necessary, and you are not obliged to provide any specific reasons for this:
